her forward port lifeboat as it went over the rail. But none of the daily papers took the trouble to mention just how the crow's nest is situated on these ships, and consequently how high that sea was Inquiry by a Maine Journal representative discovered that, while in menof-war and many other ships the custom is to have the crow's nest in the

Mountainous Wates,

foretop or a trifle above, the White Star ships have it at an altitude of 25 feet above the mam deck on the foremast, reached by a little iron ladder from the forward hurricane deck. In such a slup as the Majestic or Tentonic the height of the main deck at the lorerigging is about 40 feet above the level of the sea, which would make the height of the wave that carried away the crow's nest in this instance about 70 feet. This is a pretty big roller for the north Atlantic, but in other parts of the ocean such waves are often encountered in a storm. Supposing the ship to have been in a trough of the sea at the time this wave swept her, the mean height of the wave might be calculated as not greater than 40 feet, but it was certainly a body of water nearly 70 feet high from where the ship floated.—Marine Journal.

For and Against the Single Tax.

Hyattsville, Md., is still under single tax rule, but there are few signs to show that the principle has made much headway since it won the day in the bitter fight of last spring. Its opponents assert that it has ruined the town, and they point to the condition of the streets and of the pavements to corroborate their claim that the place has gone backward since the single tax people got control of

These contentions the single tax-men vigorously deny, but their vigor is more in the championship of the single tax as a principle than in the demonstration of its workings in this place. Generally they . y that it has not been in force long enough yet for a fair trial. The opporents reply with vigor that they have had enough of it and that they intend to bring about a change in May, when the annual election of town com-im stoners will be held. The votes seem to be pretty evenly divided between the two factions, both of which are quietly but earnestly preparing for the contest in the spring

There is a great deal of feeling in the fight, and the literature of the discussion is becoming formidable.—Cor. New York

Great Men and Organ Grinders.

That the late Mr. Blame had a liking for the melodies of the Italian organ grinders who perambulate the streets we are told by Il Progresso Italo-Ameri-cano. There have been other distinguished Americans with the same hking at times. One of them was the late Ceneral Ben Butler, when the organists played the tunes that pleased him, one of which was the tune of "Aume Laure," and another that of the "Marseillaise. -New York Sun.

HOW MANY deaths have been the result of treating with unscrupulous demagogues.

NO. 37.

How many deaths have been caused by the use of poiso-(morphine, acconite, strychnine, beladonna, etc.)

In how many cases has death been hastened by the use of mineral (mercury, iron, zinc, chloral).

In how many cases have men and women been ruined for life by the use of the ever ready knife, at the hands of a so-called Specialist.

How many people there are who go from doctor to doctor and from hospital to hospital, suffering from a complication of diseases, and being created for first one thing and then another, and never realizing the least benefit. Never in any case having received anything but a combination of mineral poison, and as a consequence, accelerated misery and distress.

To such the discovery of a doctor who understands his or her case, who applies a common sense treatment and relieves the sufferer from pain and distress by Nature's remedies, is like a flash of heavenly light from a dark and overeast sky.

The resolution provides that San Jose shall deed to the State ten acres of land for a capitol building and grounds and give a bonus of $1,000,000 to build a new State liouse. The principal cause for offering the resolution was an article in the Sacramento Bre, thanking God that the Legislature would soon adjourn, and the members felt that if such was the feeling toward them the snoper the Capital was removed to a more hospitable city the better. Pitman System

Many systems have been invented and tried and then discarded as worthless; others are being recommended daily which will certainly share the same fats, therefore those who expect to earn their livelihood by following Shorthand as a business should be careful to start right, with a correct system (Pi'man) and remember that the shortest line is not always the most direct way home and that there are "rules" in this world which are very deceptive and therefore will always be misleading. Dr. C. E. Hale, St Paul: DEAR SIE:-Before going to your office I made suitable provisions for my family, and wringing the hands of those I love, I paid my taxes and settled my earthly affairs. I expected to suffer the tortures of the inquisition, for my molars are the most sensitive part of my anatomy, and you will remember that I inquired somewhat minutely as to where dentists bury their dead, and what ratio of the condemned really arreive; but I found your new method makes it about as pleasant to have a tooth filled as to have a photograph taken, and cute a new phase on the whole business.

And made thee servant of all human need, Beyond one thought of blessing or of han, Save of thy Master, whose great lesson ran,

Save of thy Master, whose great lesson ran,
"The great are they who serve." So now, indeed,
All churches are one church in loving heed
Of thy great life wrought on thy Master's plan!
As we stand in the shadow of thy death,
How perty all the poor distinctions seem
That would fence off the human and divine!
Large was the utterance of thy living breathLarge as the discountis human hope and dream,
And now humanity's hushed love is thine!

A woman who has suffered from the most annoying torture which this particular infliction entails reports to have found relief from a new remedy, or at least from something which is not one of the usual remedies.

"After trying hot salt and water, witch hazel, cold cream and the rest of the list," says this woman, "the idea came to me that to bury my feet in the creamy coolness of cornstarch might assuage the intolerable burning. I tried it, with in-

Once he was more or less intemperate, but he stopped that folly some time ago. Up to the last he was generous and self sacrificing to the degree of fault. His sympathies were easily enlisted and his enthusiasm and loyalty never faltered. Oftentimes betrayed and imposed upon and wronged, he never lost confidence in his fellow men. So we think of the old man very tenderly as we speak of him today, and the hard part of it all is that we have to hold our pen in check, lest it commit us to an utterance of those deeper feelings in our heart which perhaps would seem mere sentimentality to you, who may not have known this kindly old soul. This world of ours is very beautiful, ful world humanity, with its tender sympathics and tender offices, glorifies it all. Our old friend Phocion laved this and life here is sweet, for in this beautiworld of ours, and he loved his fellow men, and it is this love, perchance, that qualifies humanity for what is to come in the hereafter.—Eugene Field in Chi-

A remarkable story comes all the way from Moravia to the effect that all the cows in that part of the country are humped in the rail fence corners, chewing their ends with great blue spectacles fastened before their eyes." It seems that the ground in that country has been covered with snow since the latter part STRICTLY FIRST CLASS HOUSE of October. Nearly every day has been clear and cold, the reflection of the sunfrom the snow being very disastrops to the eves of both man and beast. Thousands of eattle went entirely blind before the attention of the government director of agriculture was called to the fact. That gentleman, Dr. Verincourt, recommended blue spectacle glasses set in wooden or wire frames, and the result is that thousands of cows are now rouning about over the Moravian pastures

looking as dignified as Boston "school-

The unfavorable impression caused in may enroles abroad by the failure of flashng meandescent lights to meet all the equirements of a clear and rapid sysera of signaling has been greatly modiied by the introduction of a new device. It was formerly found that flashes could not be made with the necessary rapidity, owing to the fact that light lingers in he carl on. In the new flash lamps, a number of which are being supplied to several English battleships, aspring covor lade, and reveals the light, being worked by a flexible spring by hand, and mabling signals of practically any degree of rapidity and of the utmost distim tness to be sent. The lamps are of about 100-candle lower and are worked at the masthead y electric wires from the deck. From experiments made with the new device it appears that the direct flashing of high power incandescent lamps for signaling parposes is likely to be eventually superseded by some dark cover arrangement.—Exchange.
